

Einstein's Riddle

The story behind Einstein's riddle is that Albert Einstein created it in the late 1800s and claimed that 98% of the world population couldn't solve it.

1. In a street there are five houses, painted five different colors.
2. In each house lives a person of different nationality.
3. These five homeowners each drinks a certain drink, plays a certain sport, and keeps a certain pet, one of which is a fish. No two people drink the same drink, play the same sport, or keep the same pet.

Einstein's riddle is: Who owns the fish?

Necessary clues:

- The Brit lives in a red house
- The Swede keeps dogs
- The Dane drinks tea
- The green house is on the left of the white house
- The green house owner drinks coffee
- The person who plays polo rears birds
- The owner of the yellow house plays hockey
- The man living in the house right in the center drinks milk
- The Norwegian lives in the first house
- The man who plays baseball lives next to the man who keeps cats
- The man who keeps horses lives next to the one who plays hockey
- The man who plays billiards drinks juice
- The German plays soccer
- The Norwegian lives next to the blue house
- The man who plays baseball has a neighbor who drinks water.